It's all about potatoes!

Are you a hands-on team player who can independently initiate and execute different projects? Do you already have some experience and are you interested in the agricultural sector in the Netherlands? Are you the kind of person that ensures everything related to implementation, data and information is perfectly coordinated and clear? Are you up for the next step in your career? If so, you might be our new Project manager Agribusiness!

GEO4A is an innovative and growing company located in Emmeloord. Our services translate differentiated data sources, e.g. Earth Observation, in-situ data, and agronomic information in a myriad of actionable insights that powers decision-making of potato agribusinesses. Our focus is on continuous design, development and delivery of high-quality products for a wide range of customers. To complement our team we are looking for a

Project manager Agribusiness

Your responsibilities

The work varies greatly, so we are not looking for a "classic" project manager, but a spider in the web. In one project you are the main vocal point and lead manager of the project and responsible for coordination and implementation. This includes writing and executing activity plans, monitoring and reporting and stakeholder management. In another project you identify, generate and analyse the needs and demands of our customers and translates these to project or product proposals. You are capable to interpret and process innovative data and convert this to useful information and insights for various end-users. Moreover, our product portfolio is expanding and as project manager you are actively involved in this development process and generate resources for realising ideas.

Your profile

GEO4A operates in a very specific field, namely the potato sector. However, we are convinced that eager and ambitious people can quickly become experts in new fields. Therefore, we value personality and background just as much as previous work experience. We are looking for candidates with the following profile:

- Master or Bachelor degree (HBO/WO)
- 3 up to 5 years' experience in the agricultural sector.
- Data analytics and statistics are becoming more and more essential in our business, so a strong interest in these is preferred.
- Strong oral and written communication skills in Dutch and in English

You love to collaborate and bring some experience in embedding data processes and analyses. You like to cross your t's and dot your i's. You are reflective, analytic and pragmatic, skills that ensure you thrive on the variation of operational, organisational and strategic tasks and responsibilities. You are able to quickly become the new potato expert and recognise opportunities while at our customers. Nice to have is affinity with software development and Earth Observation data.

You at GEO4A

- A versatile position in an innovative and dynamic environment with a lot of possibilities. You are responsible for your work and you can implement your own ideas
- A competitive salary with a range of benefits, including 8% holiday pay and collective pension plan contribution
- Comfortable and modern work place in Emmeloord, with attention to work-life balance depending on your specific needs
- Hybrid working environment. You can work from our office, from home or somewhere else depending on the needs of your activities.
- Opportunities for professional and personal development
- Transport allowance or company car
